HIGH SCHOOL

Superintendent finds a Substitute For Principal Who Failed To Appear—
Annual Board Officers Chosen—
A New Rule That Seems Fair—
Ball Game Friday—In The Grades.

Last week we published the fact that the Board of Education had engaged a Mr. Lamon of Rising Sun, Indiana to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Holman as principal of the High School. Mr. Lamon was introduced to the High School on Wednesday morning and remained with Mr. Holman during the day Wednesday. On Thursday morning when Mr. Lamon was supposed to have entered upon his duties as principal, he failed to appear. Investigation revealed the fact that Mr. Lamon had paid his bill at the Hotel Blair and left with his traveling bag Wednesday night without leaving any forwarding address. Mr. Holman had gone into the country Thursday morning but by noon Mr. Altetier succeeded in getting into communication with him and he returned to resume his work in the high school and help out in the emergency.

Later the Board of Education received a letter from Mr. Lamon in which he stated that he was not feeling well Wednesday evening and went to Toledo in the evening where he consulted an optician who informed him that he had a very bad case of astigmatism and that it was imperative that he should not use his eyes following the advice of the optician he went direct from Toledo to his home in Rising Sun Indiana. Saturday the Board of Education sent a communication to Mr. Lamon stating that the school was not in a position to employ him and that the school was not in a position to employ him.

At the grade building all repairs with the exception of some cement work in the basement, have been completed. Miss Simpson who has been in Detroit, has so far recovered that she is expected to take charge of her grade next week. Miss Florence Hayes has been substituting in this grade during Miss Simpson's absence.

ODD BITS OF NEWS.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"What's your name?" asked the street repair department timekeeper of a worker. "Wonder," the man replied. "Don't kid me, what's your name?" "Wonder, I wonder." The man's name was Hy Wonder.

Richmond, Mo.—Mrs. Catherine Roberts, 70 years old, was troubled with swollen gums. A few days later the edges of a new set of teeth, her third, appeared. Shortly she will have a complete set.

Martins Ferry, O.—Near the Riverside Bridge Company's factory a houseboat, loaded with pretty young vacationists, was moored. But when the girls began to disport in the water every day, in garbs described as "close to nature" the workmen in the factory threw down their tools and spent their time in the windows and on the roofs of the building watching the antics of the fair bathers. Now the bridge company is suing to compel the girls to move their houseboat.

Kalamazoo, Mich.—On the same day, Eva Jackson found a sister from whom she had been separated for twenty years; helped to celebrate the twenty-first birthday of Charles R. Olmstead, and then, to cap the climax married him. The sister is the wife of Arthur Brewer, a friend of Olmstead, through whom the sisters traced their kinship.

Dallas, Tex.—"Sweet! Sweet! Every time Miss Ester Hoffman, beautiful young society girl of this town, takes a step, her pet canary sings. She carries the bird everywhere with her, dancing from her hand in a dainty cage.

The Colds of Mankind Cured by Pine! Have you ever gone through a typical nine forest when you had a cold? What a vigorous impulse it sent! How you opened wide your lungs to take those invigorating and mysterious qualities. Yes, Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey possesses those stimulating qualities and overcomes hacking coughs. The inner lining of the throat is strengthened in its attack against cold germs. Every famer needs a bottle constantly at hand.

SOME OATS!

George Leiminger of York township reports a total yield of 540 bushels of oats from 5 1/2 acres, on his farm this season and no fertilizer used.

DRY CAMPAIGN

Fulton County Dry Campaign To Be Opened on Saturday and Sunday By L. N. D. Wells of Akron Who Will Speak at Swanton, Wauseon and Fayette.

Beginning with a mass meeting on the street corner in Swanton at 7:30 Saturday evening, L. N. D. Wells of Akron will deliver the opening addresses of the 1915 "Ohio Dry" campaign in Fulton county. The second address will be given Sunday afternoon from the Court House steps in Wauseon at 2:30 o'clock and on Sunday evening Doctor Wells will speak in the Christian church at Fayette. Mr. Wells is known by a number of Wauseon people as one of the ablest orators in the state and it is in compliance with the earnest requests of these Fulton county friends that Doctor Wells has given up one of his vacation Sundays to the cause of Prohibition in Fulton county.

At his home in Akron he is a leader in every civic enterprise, is chairman of the Summit County Dry Organization and is in constant demand as a speaker for this cause. Doctor Wells has worked his way through two Canadian Colleges, was born in West Virginia and grew up in Southeastern Ohio; he combines a thorough education, exceptional ability as a speaker and a most winning personality so that he appeals to men in all walks of life. None should miss the opportunity to listen to this man's message.

HERE'S A CHANCE TO HELP.

Surely every citizen of Wauseon wishes to keep the town clean and sanitary and no real public spirited citizen wants to be forced to comply with the rules of the State Board of Health here in our own home town. Most everyone have their spells of forgetfulness and carelessness, citizens of our village are not exempt. Health Officer Sweeney has found some of the alleys in the heart of the town that smell to high heaven, are breeding places for flies and disease, because garbage decaying fruit and etc. has been dumped in them.

Here's a chance to show what kind of citizen you are! Look over the alley and if the description above applies there, clean up; bury the garbage and decaying fruit. Don't wait to have notice served.

NEED EXTRA CARE THIS YEAR WITH SEED CORN

Because of the prevailing wet weather this summer, seed corn picked this fall is likely to contain a very high percentage of moisture. Extra care should be used and in necessary in storing the seed corn until planting time. In several states, farmers have agreed to select and store their seed corn together. Officers of farmers' clubs have been instructed to see that every farmer in the community has enough seed corn for the coming season. In one county, a Seed Corn Day has been set aside. On that day the selecting of the seed corn is followed by a general picnic.

His Rest Was Broken.

O. D. Wright, Rosemont, Neb., writes: "I was bothered with pains in the region of my kidneys. My rest was broken by frequent action of my kidneys. I was advised by my doctor to try Foley Kidney Pills and one 50 cent bottle made me feel like a new man. They relieve rheumatism and backache. Fink & Haumesser.

NOTICE.

Dr. Ellis, Optical Specialist, has opened office in the Peoples State Bank Building. Office days Thursday, Friday and Saturday. 23-4-c

MATTHEW STEWARD

Esteemed Citizen of Wauseon Answers The Last Call at the Age of 68—Funeral Services in Wauseon At Liberty Center.

Mr. Matthew Steward, who since 1904 has been one of Wauseon's highly esteemed and respected citizens, died at his home on Cherry street last Friday morning, September 10th; Mr. Steward was born in Wauseon, Ohio on Tuesday August 31st and never rallied from the shock. Funeral services which were largely attended by relatives, friends and neighbors, were held last Sunday afternoon at the home on Cherry street in the Reformed church of Liberty Center. The services at the home were conducted by Rev. J. H. Williams, pastor of the United Brethren church of Wauseon, who preached a short sermon; he was assisted in this service by Rev. Frank E. Kenyon and the choir from the U. B. church of Wauseon.

An auto hearse accompanied by fourteen autos conveyed the funeral cortege to Liberty Center where the second service was held. The Reformed church was filled to its capacity. Mr. Steward was buried in the cemetery near the church.

Rev. Kenyon conducted the service, assisted by Rev. J. H. Williams and singers of the Liberty Center church furnished the beautiful service. The funeral was made in Youngs Cemetery where a memorial service being read by Rev. J. H. Williams. At both the services the following brief biography of Mr. Steward was read.

Matthew Steward, son of John and Elizabeth Steward was born in Huron County, Ohio, August 28th, 1847; departed this life at Wauseon, Ohio, September 10th, 1915, aged 68 years and 18 days. He was the youngest of ten children having seven brothers and two sisters. At the age of six years he moved with his parents to a farm in Liberty township, Huron county, where he resided for fifty-one years. In 1904 he moved to Wauseon where he spent the remaining years of his life, keeping the farm in his possession until his death.

He was married to Alice Mitchell, July 17th, 1873, to this union were born three children, Sylvia Lloyd and Homer. Lloyd departed this life, June 10th, 1914, and on July 26th, 1914, came their second great sorrow, the death of Sylvia. Two little granddaughters have also preceded him to the spirit world.

He was converted, baptized and united with the United Brethren church fourteen years ago. His knowledge of the principles of spiritualism led him to a firm belief in that doctrine; he affirmed the existence of a Supreme Intelligence or Soul force in the Universe, also that this soul force is omnipresent and the source of life, visible and invisible; that the moral responsibility rests on each individual, that no one can escape the just penalty of wrong doing. He was a kind and loving father, an affectionate husband and a loyal neighbor; always ready and willing to help others even beyond his strength. A man with a kindlier smile and a more quiet disposition than Mr. Steward could not be found. Doing something to please any one of his four little grand children, was one of his chief delights. He was a great home lover and always spent his leisure moments with his family, often saying "Home is the best place on Earth."

Grief over the loss of his daughter in his declining years seemingly shortened his days. He suffered from a complication of diseases, yet he bore it all courageously and secretly, not wishing to further trouble his already saddened companion until August 31st when he was stricken with apoplexy. From that time he lingered only ten days when he ended. He leaves to mourn his departure, a wife, one son, Homer, residing on the home farm, two grandsons, two granddaughters, Robert, son of Chester, Oklahoma and Frederick of Liberty Center, Ohio, besides these there are a host of relatives and friends who will miss him.

GOING UP!

The constant increase of court expenditures is inexplicable to the burdened tax-payers who have not gone to the trouble of seeking a solution based upon investigation. The trouble primarily is traceable to the legislative mill which grinds out an endless quantity of useless and often harmful laws. Such hodgepodge products of the legislative machinery leads directly to increased court business. Another bad practice of legislative bodies is that of paying more attention to party politics and spoils incident thereto than to the real business that should have consideration. There certainly should be some plan adopted whereby legislatures will attend to making laws and not to seeking spoils.

BENEFIT SHOW.

On Monday night September 20th, the Princess Theatre will hold a benefit entertainment for the "Wauseon Camp Fire Girls." A special program has been arranged consisting of 5000 feet of motion photo plays and several solos will be rendered by the Camp Fire Girls. Don't forget; get the time, 7 p. m., the place Princess Theatre. Benefit for the Camp Fire Girls.

For anyone pain in the back apply Hanford's Balsam Rub it on and rub it in thoroughly.

POULTRY SHOW

Wauseon Poultry and Pet Stock Association Preparing for Second Annual Poultry Show And First Annual Grain Show In Wauseon, November 30th to December 4th, Inclusive.

The members of the Wauseon Poultry and Pet Stock Association have been busy all the past week getting things in shape for the second annual poultry show in Wauseon and the indications are that this show will far surpass the show of last year, which was conceded by all who visited it to be a marked success. The efforts of the Association and cooperation of business men of the town a Grain Show has been arranged to be held in connection with the Poultry Show; one hundred dollars in premiums have been secured for this show and as there are no entry fees there are likely to be a good number of entries and a fine exhibit of grains may be looked for. At the first show $56.00 in cash and $200 worth of merchandise was awarded in premiums to exhibitors of pure bred poultry; this year the premiums will be at least double those of last year.

The Association is busy compiling the premium lists, which they expect to issue about October 15th. Mr. L. Barrett who has won a reputation as an expert poultry judge in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan has been retained as judge for the show, President E. F. Hanson and Secretary Harry Merrill are keeping things moving and it will not be many days before all the plans will be perfected and every thing ready for a show that will please everybody. One problem that the Association has to solve, is the place for holding the show; the second story of the Saunderson building which is occupied by Gottschalk's Garage and Auto repair shop. The firemen will undoubtedly come to the rescue by granting permission to Association to hold the show there; their quarters in the City Hall; this would make a fine place and has the same advantage as Saunderson's Hall in being centrally located.

WOMAN'S CLUB FIRST PROGRAM
The first program of the Woman's Club for the year 1915-16 last Tuesday afternoon was of unusual interest to the club members because of the presence of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Biery of Bowling Green and an illustrated lecture on "Visual Imagery in Literature."

Mr. Biery. The lecture opened a new avenue in the study of literature for the club. Mr. Biery demonstrated that a test or literature that endures is the imagery that it contains; the best literature, that which has endured and will so long as people live to read and think, abounds in visual imagery; this fact Mr. Biery very cleverly and artistically illustrated with the crayon and blackboard.

The lecture gave the club members new inspiration for the year's work in modern literature which has been outlined by the program committee. The program as arranged by the club is a credit to the club and shows careful and thorough work on the part of the committee. The authors whose works are to be studied by the club this year are, Marion Craig Wentworth, Henry Van Dyke, Zora Gale, Colewort, Macerlinck, Basil King, O'Henry, Mrs. Humphrey Ward, Selma Lagerlof, Kathleen Norris and Kipling. One meeting will be devoted to Christian Ethics and a representation of that term of Biblical literature the Book of Job.

OBSERVATIONS OF JAKE.

Mr. David Myers and 2 friends and J. E. L. had the Buick spinning to the state fair at Columbus the last day of August. Dave is a good driver he is careful.

Mr. J. A. greaser and Nofziger bought the Nofziger farm west of the center A. M. church for $150.25 an acre it is a fine farm. Mrs. Christ king in on the sick list at this writing.

Mr. Andrey at Long Beach had 2 of his children married in Cal. the last few months ago the Cal. is all O. K. he says.

Mr. Batdorf wife and son the baby Fredrick O. visited with L. B. Williams the Hotel Clinton man and family last Sunday in Wauseon Ohio. J. E. L. was call to go with Mr. Wyse and Leupp last sat day in their auto and nearly got scared going to Wauseon from Toledo at the rate of 60 mile an hour looking back he asked are you on yet I was sgld when I got to wauseon

COULDN'T ADVERTISE.

Jud Shaw sold shoes and sealing wax, and lamps, fishpots and guns, tobacco, candles gum and tacks, sicklers and sardines, too; dry goods and hams were in his line! he dealt in peas and beans; he kept the general store, in fact, sold overalls and jeans; but Jud, somehow, he wasn't wise—"Couldn't afford to advertise."

Not that he harbored any grudge against his home town sheet; he was, as anyone might judge, a kindly man to meet; his customers he treated fair, and yet he prospered not; his goods were honest, wasn't wise—"Couldn't afford to advertise."

Mail order firms from out of town much wiser in their day, paid liberally for their renown, and gathered in the hay; their catalogues went everywhere; they advertised for trade; their name went forth with trumpet blare, and all the coin they made; couldn't afford, they were so wise, couldn't afford NOT to advertise.

Now Jud's stuff it was just as good; his prices were the same; the loss was ours; he simply WOULD not spread abroad his name through townfolks might have much preferred in their home mart to buy, of Jud Shaw they had never heard—y'know the reason why, for Jud, somehow, he wasn't wise—"Couldn't afford to advertise!"

PARTISANSHIP.

Partisanship may be a legitimate adhesion to party, or it may simply be an association for selfish ends. This latter partisanship may become the bane of national existence, as it is organized to prate of principle while it is grabbing the spoils. As one writer puts it, such partisans are "bound together by the cohesive power of public plunder." This perverted partisanship bends its greatest efforts to the control of political situation through organizations masking under the names of social or moral associations. Under a plea of morality, or reform, they seek to gain office or power regardless of the greater good of the state or the nation. The methods of such partisans may be distinguished easily. They are always the same—pledges from candidates, falsehood, either through threats of defeat or promises of favors. Frequently the efforts of such partisans are inspired by zeal but zeal in a bad cause may even a greater evil than that which the zealot would try to remedy. Reform in itself may be desirable, but if the consequences of that reform are worse than the evil it reforms, nothing is gained and progress is hindered. Partisanship should be regulated by common sense and knowledge.

CLASSES MAY STUDY FREE CORRESPONDENCE COURSES

Although started primarily for individual study, the correspondence courses which are being started by the Agricultural Extension Service of Ohio State University are also available for classes organized by granges, farm clubs, young peoples' clubs, farmers' institutes, county and city Y. M. C. A. organizations. An additional feature has been added to the class study, the Extension Service arranging to send a representative at some time during the course to meet with the class and assist in the work.

Each course of the 22 offered is entirely without charge to any resident of Ohio, whether or not he or she is actively engaged in farming or is living in a rural community. The courses consist from 4 to 14 lessons, each lesson including 20 to 40 typewritten sheets and questions covering the instruction given. Instructors from the agricultural faculty prepared the courses. A bulletin explaining in detail each course will be sent upon application to J. E. McClintock, Supervisor of Correspondence Courses, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.
